Working to improve education in church, school and home

'Picturing Creation' by Pamela Draycott and Rachel Barker (ISBN - 1-904024-58-0)

This pack includes, a fantastic set of 7 glossy, full colour, A4 prints, depicting striking original paintings of the Genesis account of creation, an A4 leaders handbook and a CD ROM. We used these as the focus for hourly prayer slots as part of a company sleepover. The CD can be used through a projector and the pictures and texts shown on the wall, it even includes a video interview with the artist. On the back of each of the A4 prints the appropriate text is shown, along with questions to prompt discussion and comments from the artist. The juniors really engaged and talked about their understanding of creation and the older girls the feelings which the colours and shades of the pictures evoked. Some were challenged to recreate their own painting of the heavens separating from the sea. The handbook gives practical ideas on how to develop the each daily theme and could be used for a whole series of devotions involving craft ideas, activities and web sites for further information. Although targeted at 8 -13 years, explorers, brigaders and leaders also appreciated the pack. Well worth buying for the district to share.

Please copy this to others in your district and look out for issue 4 coming soon
